"RESULTS THAT KONJOLA GAVE CAME TO STAY"

So Says Youngstown Men Who Tell of Lasting Relief from New and Different Medicine

MR. D. J. LACKEY

Konjola, the new and different medicine of 32 ingredients is not designed to give mere temporary relief. Its mission is far beyond that. Read the grateful and convincing words of Mr. D. J. Lackey, 601 High street, Youngstown, Ohio:

"I suffered for five years from indigestion, and, as you know, Konjola gave me speedy relief. Now I have returned to let you see that the results Konjola gave came to stay. That was more than a year ago, and since then I have never missed a meal. I can eat anything that any one can. I could not sleep for nervousness, and after every meal came pain, gas and bloating. I hope the news of my splendid experience will reach all who are pained through with what I did before I found Konjola."

Konjola works quickly. One does not have to wait long for results, but a complete treatment of from six to eight bottles is strongly recommended.

Konjola is sold in Marion, Ohio at Stump & Sams Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Members of Doyle Family Await Spirit Messages

Confidently Expect Conversations with Departed Author and Spiritualist Leader; Funeral To Be Held Thursday in Village of Groombridge.

By International News Service
LONDON, July 8.—Mourning the permanent physical departure of a father, husband and scholar, the family of the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle today completed the simple plans for final tribute to the passing of the author and spiritualist.

At Groombridge, Sussex, funeral services will be held Thursday and Sir Arthur's body will be buried in the picturesque village church. Though the creator of Sherlock Holmes died yesterday, stricken with a heart attack in his seventy-second year, his family and friends considered his death but a transition that will have its culmination in early communications from Sir Arthur from the world of spirits.

"The period of service is not ended," These were the words of Sir Oliver Lodge, close friend and associate of Sir Arthur in spiritualistic research for the past 11 years.

The world of science was aloof. Family Await Messages

Sir Arthur's family and adherents were in complete accord with Sir Oliver's statement. Conjecture and interest grew throughout Britain—A Britain that at one moment grieved the loss of a well-loved writer, gentleman, scholar, and traveler, and at the next moment viewed with growing interest the practical test to which his firm belief in communication with the living after death could now be put.

"I know perfectly well that I am going to have conversations with father," his son, Adrian said. "Father er fully believed that when he passed over he would continue to keep in touch with us. There is no question but that he will often speak to us just as he did before he died.

"We will miss his footsteps and his physical presence, but that is all; otherwise, he might only have gone to Australia."

"We are prepared for trouble on the part of Charles, and we will guard against it."

Lady Doyle, another son, Dennis, and their daughter, Jean, have implicit confidence in future communications from Sir Arthur.

All Present at Death

They all were at his bedside at Windesham, the family home, in Groombridge, Sussex, when he smiled quietly into his wife's eyes:

"You are wonderful"—and left them.

Out of his prolific contributions to the world of letters—he was perhaps the most widely read British author except, possibly, Rudyard Kipling—many of his works will be immortal.

His profound interest in and devotion to matters spiritualistic was an indirect cause of the condition that brought on his death. He was weakened by the strain of a lecture tour through Sweden, last fall, where he championed his beliefs.

He was taken ill two months ago, but he regained considerable strength and the end came as a shock.

One of the first duties of a Christian is to learn to smile.

T. M. DODD RELEASED FROM COUNTY JAIL

Order To Free Man Issued by State Welfare Director.

Release from the county jail of T. M. Dodd, indicted two months ago on a charge of defrauding an insurance company, was announced today by Sheriff John J. Francis, following an order issued by State Welfare Director Hal J. Griswold.

Dodd is a paroled penitentiary convict and as such is under supervision of the state welfare department. The alleged offense is said to have occurred before Dodd was sentenced to the penitentiary two years ago on a non-support charge.

The release order was made following an investigation made by L. V. Woodring, field officer for the state welfare department.

Six Building Permits Are Issued in Marion

Six building permits were issued yesterday by City Clerk Sylvester Larkin. The largest permit was for the erection of a super-server station to be located at 388 South Prospect street to cost $10,000. J. M. Sterlitz took out the permit.

Calle L. Huanman of 241 East Church street was given a permit to build a garage to cost $200.

M. N. Lundon of 251 Hane avenue obtained a permit for the construction of a $200 garage.

A filling station permit was given to R. C. Wolff of 301 South Main street. It is to cost $1,000.

NO RELIEF SEEN

Mercury Passes 80 Mark For Second Day; Night Cool.

Marion is to have little relief from the torrid heat which has been gripping the city for the last several days. If predictions of the official weather men are correct.

The forecast for tonight and Wednesday is continued fair and warm. Northern Ohio is due to get an even higher temperature, the weatherman reported.

Yesterday's high for Marion was 81, eight degrees hotter than the same day one year ago. The low was 59 compared with 68 for a year ago.

ROAD SHORTENED

Trustees To Act on New Plans at Meeting Tonight.

New plans and specifications for improvement of the Kite-Creek road in Tully township were to be drawn up today by County Surveyor Cecil H. Levens following a decision of township trustees last night to reduce the improvement from two and one-half miles to one and three-quarters mile.

Original estimate for the road, based on maximum paving, was $12,200.

The trustees will meet tonight to review the new plans as well as discuss the improvement of the Lyons road, which is to be paved with macadam at an estimated cost of $12,400. The road is two and one-half miles long.

Statton, 82-year-old mayor of West Jefferson, today was still awaiting a hearing on charges of misconduct in office after witnesses for the prosecution failed to appear for a hearing which was scheduled for yesterday. The date of the hearing has been moved up to Aug. 18 by Governor Cooper.

When witnesses for the prosecution failed to appear, a postponement of the hearing was requested by Attorney Charles Williams, special counsel of the attorney general's office. Statton's attorneys vigorously protested the continuance.

A petition charging Statton with drunkenness and inefficiency in office was submitted to Governor Cooper a few weeks ago by residents of West Jefferson.

CHOLERA SPREADS IN ISLAND AREAS

Growing Philippine Menace Creates Problem for U. S. Health Bureau.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 8.—Cholera and yellow fever, old scourges in a new age, have made the tropic map a battleground for Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings, of the United States public health service.

It is a fight of many phases, brought sharply to focus by the serious outbreak of cholera in the Philippines. In its broader aspects it involves rigid quarantine regulations by sea and air, and ultra-modern vaccination and eradication methods.

To Dr. Cummings has been given the task of formulating an international convention whereby the various countries involved in tropic travel may enter a compact to prevent the spread of plagues by airplanes.

Returning to regular desk routine this week after absences which included international health conference on tropic diseases, Dr. Cummings found the cholera problem on Uncle Sam's own doorstep for the first time in many years.

A crescendo of Philippine cables, each longer than the last because it told of more cases, more deaths, lay upon his desk.

"Sounds bad," he commented, with a rueful shake of the head. "It has hit many of the large islands—seems pretty much all over the Philippines."

In the fight against yellow fever, Dr. Cummings has sent Dr. H. F. Smith, former chief quarantine officer of the Philippines, into Iloilo, its historic home, with the instruction, "Eradicate."
